

Management & Review Services

Bitzios Consulting has been involved in the project management of a number of transport studies for state government agencies and Councils in both Queensland and NSW. We are accustomed to working in our client's offices and have a number of staff who provide long term support to various government agencies. Our blend of technical expertise and project management experience provides excellent value for money for short or medium term resource assistance. We are also called upon for peer review services for transport strategies, evaluation processes, models, traffic studies and traffic impact assessments and have a number of principal engineers with expertise in key areas for providing these types of independent review roles.
